Recommendations for future development

My client Adolfo believe that the website is very good he is pleased with the design and the overall content of the page, however he also believe that there is two improvements that could be done. The improvement mentioned by Adolfo consists of adding into the page a comment box an and e-mail contact applications where users that come into the website can leave comments on the "reflexiones.htm" and the "contactanos.htm" if users have a something to say, observations, or any doubts and questions or they prefer to send an e-mail. However in order to add an comment box it can be done through two different ways one is by leaving the comment box and every time a comment is submitted it is send to an e-mail address and the second is when submitted a comment it stays in the page for everyone to see it. What I would advise is for the comment to be sent directly to an e-mail address, in this way there would be a better communication which is what my client is primarily looking for with this. The reason he believes that this would be of great help for him is because in this way he will be able to know what everyone that visits his page will think about it and from there make any corrections or improvement to the page, therefore having a better communications with users.
