

relevant information needed by the government such as address phone number etc, illegible responses not considered

1 mark

c) When travelling to a country the need of information such as hotels restaurants destinations is important, such as hotel car and visa requirements, the Australian government web page allows people to even search for all this information if needed in order to arrange a business trip to Australia and it improves this from telephonic communication in a way ^{TV} that the people ~~that~~ who you are speaking should be able for the ~~same~~ Australian government, and the inclusion of a web page allows people who do not speak the official language in Australia to understand this, which mean that the web page can easily be translated. ^{One positive aspect.} ~~No detail how it is translated.~~ It also allow the traveller to register in a secure place ^{TV} relevant information such as emergency number and it help the traveller to know more about the place where he/she is going for ~~the~~ to the travel advice. ^{NE}

2 marks

illegible response, not always focused on the question total 4 marks Lacks ITGS terminology, not balanced and limited description not enough detail on the webpage being translated